Wilson Ready To Accept His Share of Responsibilities For Delay

President Says Slowness of Negotiations Not Due to Any Single Country or Its Representatives—U. S. Delegates Approve Root's Amendments

PARIS, April 1.—President Wilson today explained that he was willing to accept his share of responsibility for the peace conference delays. He was careful to point out that the slowness of the negotiations was not due to any single country or its representatives.

Lloyd George To Stay to Finish

PARIS, April 1.—Notwithstanding the delay in reaching an agreement on the preliminary peace treaty, Premier Lloyd George, the Paris edition of the London Daily Mail says, does not intend to return to England before the questions are adjusted, in spite of his desire to attend the closing meeting of the British Labor conference.

Approve Root's Amendments

PARIS, April 1.—One of the legal specialists associated with the American peace delegation, said today he believed all six amendments to the League of Nations covenant suggested by Elihu Root were acceptable to the American delegation.

Hindenburg Concentrating Large Forces In Eastern Prussia

PARIS, April 1. (Havas).—The Germans are concentrating large forces in eastern Prussia under command of Field Marshal von Hindenburg, according to the Paris edition of the New York Herald.

Foch Goes to Spa To Meet Erzberger

PARIS, April 1. (Havas).—Marshal Foch will leave Paris tonight for Spa to meet Matthias Erzberger, to discuss with him the allied demand that Polish troops be permitted to use the port of Danzig. The marshal has received full powers to negotiate with the German representative. He will be in constant communication with the council of four. The inter-allied shipping commission has completed preparations to transport the Polish troops to Danzig.

Arrest American on Treason Charge

WASHINGTON, April 1.—Secretary Baker has approved a request of the British military authorities in Turkey that they be permitted to arrest on charges of treason, James Spohr, a naturalized American citizen, and his wife, declared officially to have been "closely associated with the head of the German spy system in Palestine and among British Indian subjects."

FOUR FRENCHMEN CHECK TWO BATTLESHIPS ARRIVE WITH 2376 TROOPS

ARCHANGEL, Monday, March 31. (By the Associated Press).—Bolshevik artillery yesterday submitted the allied railway front and positions south of Odzorsk to the heaviest bombardment in many weeks. In the meantime, the enemy was moving considerable forces through the woods, indicating that an attack might follow soon.

A garrison of four French soldiers in an outlying blockhouse guarding one of the allied tanks near the front line yesterday, repeatedly repulsed attacks by 80 Bolshevik infantry men who had slipped through the woods and attempted a surprise.

The weather was mild and sunny and an enemy observation balloon was up almost all day spotting the effects of shells. An enemy airplane dropped a bomb on a village north of Odzorsk, but no damage resulted.

The allied positions along the front line are strong, with blockhouses guarding the flanks and snow trenches built up with log barricades, while there are ample dugouts to shelter all the allied forces. The troops holding this front include considerable numbers of Americans, French, British and new Russian troops. The allied artillery here is probably equal to that of the enemy's.

West of Odzorsk, the allied artillery is still shelling Bolshevik Ozera and a number of explosions occurred in that village yesterday.

District Attorney Addresses Jury in Murder Case

Many Articles Submitted by the Commonwealth as Exhibits—Several Witnesses Called, Including State Officer and Medical Examiner Smith—Jury Visits Scene of Murder in Billerica

With the impaneling of the jury yesterday afternoon and the visit of the jury to the scene of the alleged murder in Billerica the trial of Francisco Fiel and Joseph Cordio, charged with the murder of Louis Fred Soulia, began in the superior court at the court house in Gorham street this morning.

Immediately after the opening of the court, District Attorney Tuttle began his opening address to the jury, outlining what the Commonwealth would show during its prosecution of the case. He characterized the murder as one of the most brutal in the history of the Commonwealth, and although he asked the jury to convict the two defendants if the testimony convinced them of their guilt, he asked that Fiel and Cordio be given every consideration during the trial.

Mr. Tuttle's opening embraced just an hour. Many articles were put in by the Commonwealth as exhibits to be marked for identification and several witnesses were called and questioned. Dr. Smith, medical examiner, was on the stand when the court suspended for luncheon.

The court convened at 9:45 o'clock. On motion of the district attorney all witnesses were excluded from the court room with the exception of the Billerica chief of police, Inspector Walsh of the Lowell department and the medical examiners.

Mr. Tuttle began his opening address to the jury. He said that "Fred Soulia, the dead man, is gone, and nothing any man can do can bring him back. We are not trying only the issue of punishment, but a larger issue, shall the right to live be accorded man," he said. "It is the plan of the Commonwealth to show that these two men, Francisco Fiel and Joseph Cordio, did deliberately plan this murder and carry it out with extreme cruelty, making the crime one of the worst in the history of the Commonwealth."

The district attorney told of the movements of the dead man during the few days prior to the date of the alleged murder, and of the junk hole, which was filled with metal from the B. & M. car shops, and of the visit of Soulia and a Mr. Brown of the car shops to that junk pile.

"The Commonwealth will show you," he said, "that on Monday, Oct. 28, a man named Perkins, was lured by Cordio to take some pigs from a house nearby and also asked him to call at Cordio's house the next morning. If he got there at about 7 o'clock and went in his auto truck to the junk hole, so-called, with Cordio and Fiel, and there was bargained with to take away the junk. He left without it. We will show that Fiel and Cordio have denied ever seeing Perkins, or being in Billerica on the date in question, or ever having seen any junk in the vicinity."

"On Wednesday, Oct. 30, the next day, we will show that Soulia did not go home in the usual way. We will show that Soulia went to work the next day and finished work between 5 and 6 p. m. He left the car shops at that time, and was never seen alive again, except by the two defendants."

Found Soulia's Body
"Soulia did not appear at work the next day, Friday, nor Saturday, nor the following Monday. A search was then started and police officials of Billerica and Boston & Maine officials found a pool of blood covered with leaves, not far from the house of the deceased. They followed a path through what it seemed had been a dragged body. On finding the body of Soulia buried in soft sand, it was afterwards taken to an undertaking establishment in Lowell. There an autopsy was made which showed three bullet wounds in the head of deceased, two being in a cheek and the other over the mouth, and 15 knife wounds, which gave the body the appearance of being bitterly hacked to pieces."

"We will show that three lines of footprints led away from the scene of the alleged murder and converged on a wood road not far distant. These footprints were made by men running. We will show a shoe taken from the home of Fiel, which exactly fits one of these tracks."

"Following Cordio's arrest, he was taken to Lowell. In his effects were found a .22-calibre revolver and a long knife, with a four-inch handle. We will show that he afterwards admitted owning the knife. We will show a shovel found under the piazza of Cordio's house, which was covered with sand similar to that which covered the grave where the body of Soulia was found. In asking Cordio if he owned such a shovel, he replied in the negative. We will also show an axe found in the rear of Cordio's house, which had bloodstains upon it. A piece of rope also was found at the grave, and a like piece in the Cordio house."

"We will show you that a search was made for Fiel in Lawrence at the house where he had formerly lived, but could not be found. It was learned that he and his brother had been working for a contractor at the Billerica car shops. We will show you that Fiel said he quit work on Oct. 28 because he got his feet wet, but in reality he was supplied with long boots which would not allow his feet to become wet."

Pistol in Fiel's Coat
"We will show you that a coat of Fiel was found after his arrest in Haverhill, in a pocket of which was found a pistol from which three shots had recently been fired. We will show that Fiel has deliberately falsified concerning his whereabouts on the day on which the alleged murder took place, as he said he was in Lawrence the entire day."

"We also will show that a Zira cigarette box was found near the spot where Soulia's body was found, and that innumerable such boxes were discovered at the house of Cordio."

In closing Mr. Tuttle said, "Through this trial, Mr. Foreman and gentlemen, we want you to give the defendants every consideration. We are not here to get an eye for an eye, or a tooth for a tooth. If they are innocent, acquit them, but if the evidence you will hear makes them guilty in your minds, convict them."

The First Witness
Francis H. Kendall of Belmont, Mass., a county engineer, the first witness called by the government, testified that he drew the map which shows the territory in the vicinity of the alleged crime. He was cross-examined regarding distances on the map by Mr. Mack, junior counsel for Fiel.

Winfield Rowe of Waltham, a photographer, was next called. He identified two pictures taken by him at Billerica. One, the Cordio house, was marked Exhibit 2, and the other, a picture of the grave, was marked Exhibit 3. Mr. Mack objected to the pictures being accepted, but the court accepted them. The map was marked Exhibit 1.

State Officer Smith
Exhibits were then shown by Elias Smith, state police officer, not to be accepted as evidence at this time, but simply to be marked. The first to be shown was a shot gun, marked exhibit A. The next article was an oil can marked exhibit B. A pair of glasses was marked exhibit C. A hat, marked exhibit D. A pair of shoes, marked exhibit E. A piece of rope was marked exhibit F. A short piece of looped rope was marked exhibit G. An overcoat was marked exhibit H. A pair of shoes was marked exhibit I. An automatic .22 calibre revolver was marked exhibit J. An envelope containing 32 calibre bullets was marked exhibit K. A whiskey bottle and cork were marked exhibit L. Another envelope containing bullets was marked exhibit M. An envelope containing cigar cases was marked exhibit N. An envelope containing cigar stubs was marked exhibit O. A pair of shoes was marked exhibit P. A knife was marked exhibit Q. A sack coat was marked exhibit R. A revolver was marked exhibit S. An envelope was marked exhibit T.

Took Short recess
A recess was taken at 11:20 o'clock, until 11:45.

Wallace W. Brown of North Billerica, foreman of the group and reclamation department, was the next witness called. He was questioned by Mr. Fiedel. Asked if he knew Soulia, he replied in the affirmative.

"Were you with a party of men near Soulia's house on Nov. 1, 1918?" "I was," replied Mr. Brown.

"Did you see the body of Soulia lying in a hole on that day?" "I did," answered Mr. Brown.

Cross-examined by Mr. Donahue, he said that he saw Soulia alive on Thursday, Oct. 31, the last day he worked but could not tell the exact hour. Mr. Brown then left the stand.

Will Rounds, photographer, was then called to the witness stand. He testified that he made photographs of the body of Soulia on the day of the autopsy, Nov. 5; also another picture which showed a wood path and surroundings taken by Mr. Rounds, was marked exhibit A for identification. Six other pictures, photographs of the alleged body of Soulia, were marked as exhibits for identification.

Dr. T. B. Smith, medical examiner, was the next witness. He said that he saw the alleged body of Soulia at 3:30 o'clock on the afternoon of Nov. 4. He said he made a superficial examination of body and saw wounds on the trunk and neck. He said he had traced a two-foot trail which ran away from the spot and found a pool of blood about three feet in diameter. He said the blood pool was near a path near Oak street and that leaves were mixed with the fluid.

Gardner Elected Superintendent of Water Department

City Council Votes To Borrow $160,000 For School Addition—Mayor Thompson and Commissioner Murphy Indulge in Heated Controversy

Robert Gardner was elected superintendent of the Lowell water department, to succeed Robert J. Thomas, resigned, at today's meeting of the city council. Mr. Gardner has been in the department 31 years and is at present assistant superintendent. He will assume his new office April 7. Mr. Gardner received four votes, Commissioner Murphy voting for Henry J. Bowers.

The council also voted to borrow $160,000 for the erection of an addition to the Morse school in the Highlands and to take 70,000 feet of land, five parcels in all, by right of eminent domain, at a cost of $15,400.

The meeting was one of the longest held in some time, lasting nearly two hours. Mayor Thompson and Commissioner Murphy indulged in a controversy that became rather heated at times over the matter of voting for the school addition.

Meeting in Detail
The meeting was called at 10:20. Mayor Thompson was absent and Commissioner Marchand presided. A hearing was held on the petition of Little E. Watt for a garage at 58 Branch street. D. A. Burns and Joseph McEwen appeared in remonstrance, declaring that the proposed garage would be a nuisance. Mrs. Watt herself was present and said that the garage would house only four cars. It was voted to defer the matter until later in the meeting.

Headings were held on the following petitions and later referred to Commissioner Morse: Victor Provencer, garage and gasoline, 15-17 West Fourth street; LaJolle Coal Co., garage and gasoline, 1012 Gorham street and Charles Daneau, garage, 85 Appleton street.

On the petition of the New England Telephone & Telegraph Co. for permission to erect a pole in LaGrange street, it was voted to hold a hearing April 15.

John W. O'Brien petitioned for reimbursement for personal injuries, suffered to the mayor and city shelter. The petition of Chester H. Zimmer, garage and gasoline, 35 West Third street; George H. Hesson, garage and gasoline, rear 195 Pawtucket street; Eugene F. Cullinan, garage rear 173 Sibley street, and Fred A. Maddox, 276 Central street, garage, were all held for a hearing on April 22.

The petition of John P. Nutter, that the sewer in Albion street be extended so as to drain the premises at No. 16 was referred to Commissioner Murphy.

Murphy Wants Hearing
Jerome T. Cullen of the police department asked that he be given a hearing April 8 on his petition that he be reimbursed $165 for loss of pay suffered while incapacitated for duty for a period of 13 days. Mr. Cullen had petitioned the mayor last summer. It was voted to hold a hearing April 8.

Commissioner Morse reported favorably on the petition for a garage at 497 Moody street and it was voted to grant the license.

A petition signed by Albert L. O'Hair asked that the city carry out its agreement made in 1905 to widen Clark road. It was voted to hold a hearing on the matter April 8.

At 10:45 it was voted to adjourn until 11:15.

ANNOYING GIRLS ON THE STREET

Will Not Be Tolerated Here—Two Men Get House of Correction Sentence

Judge Fisher Presides at Special Session—Animals Starving in Tyngsboro

Stopping and annoying Lowell girls on the street is going to be a mighty unhealthy pastime in this city during the coming months. This was proven in police court today when Judge Fisher sentenced Ellis Pappas and John Chisakos to a four months' term in the house of correction after they had been found guilty of annoying and accounting two local young women on the evening of March 22.

HEROIC DEEDS OF 26th DIVISION

Gen. Cole, Now in Boston, Recites Story of Famous "Death Platoon"

BOSTON, April 1.—How a platoon of New England soldiers, most of them probably Massachusetts men under command of Lieut. Chester H. Howard of Mount Vernon, Pa., was wiped out in a local attack in the Argonne sector, was told today by a platoon leader, General Charles H. Cole, during some of the heroic deeds of the 26th Division men. Lieut. Howard, a platoon leader, distinguished service cross recipient, was fighting.

"On Oct. 11," said General Cole, "the story of the 'Death Platoon' as Lieut. Howard's platoon came to be called, 'The Death Platoon' of the 26th Division, was recalled. The platoon of the 26th Division was ordered to take a position of 29 men for a local attack with the town of Flavigny as the objective. He never came back nor did any of the party."

"Records of men taken prisoner by the Germans were followed but none of the men's names appeared and it was not until Nov. 2 when my brigade carried beyond the town of Flavigny that the bodies of the 29 men were found. They were ranged in line where they had fallen and were probably all killed at the same instant by machine gun bullets while they were charging at the gun." General Cole said the names of the 29 men might be discovered through the records of the 10th infantry now on the way home.

Saturday, April 6th, is "Quarter Day" at the Lowell Five Cent Savings Bank.

PACKERS RELEASED FROM FEDERAL CONTROL

WASHINGTON, April 1.—All meat packers were released today from food administration control.

Under a proclamation signed by President Wilson at Paris, effective today, "all persons, firms, corporations or associations engaged in importing, manufacturing, including packing, storing or distribution, of fresh, canned or cured beef, pork, mutton or lamb," are released from license by the food administration.

A cablegram from Herbert Hoover at Paris notified food administration officials of the proclamation.

It was stated at the food administration that the president's action released packers from supervision of every kind exercised by the food administration, including restrictions upon margins of profits.

Capper Wants Full Discussion of Girls! Lots of Beautiful Hair

BY THE HON. ARTHUR CAPPER
Republican U. S. Senator from the State of Kansas, and Publisher of the Topeka Capital

WASHINGTON, D. C., April 1.—I believe Kansas is overwhelmingly for a League of Nations. I am emphatically for it, because I believe it to be a great step toward an enduring peace which is the hope of the world, and which the world must and will have.

The people are now demanding that for which they gave freely, all that humanity has to give, and for which our boys died in France. It is unthinkable that they will be content with less.

The principle and the idea are right. Our isolation is no longer possible. Real progress in the movement to prevent war and to stop military rivalry, is America's demand.

I have no sympathy with the contention that a league agreement will tend to involve us in war instead of keeping us out of war. I believe the war-weary people of both continents will support a military and an economic boycott against the first nation which attempts to destroy another or to again ruthlessly plunge the world into war. This means there must be an international organization and agreement.

It is for us to advance in every possible way such an agreement among the nations as will lessen the chances of another war. I believe a League of Nations an absolute necessity if we are to save the world from anarchy, but it is natural there should be great differences of view among leaders of opinion concerning such a league, or any form it might take.

War is Constitutional

It seems that war is constitutional, and a compulsory peace isn't—no matter how badly the world needs it. A league to keep the peace of the world is as new and untried as was once the republican form of government. Circumstances compelled that experiment and I think we shall find a way to profit by this one.

I have faith the League of Nations covenant can be so strengthened and improved that, as finally shaped, it will have the confidence of the great majority of the American people.

But there must be a full and frank discussion of the question if the proposed peace compact is to become a compact in fact.

The country should be fully informed and should be encouraged to express its opinion, and it is not vital that the league covenant be formed before the peace treaty is presented to the senate.

The suggestions of Senator Lodge and Senator Knox have been constructive and in good faith. In the main, I approve the amendments proposed by them as well as by ex-President Taft and Dr. Lowell.

KUBAN REPUBLIC LEADER APPEALS TO ALLIES

PARIS, Monday, March 31. (By the Associated Press.)—M. Ducavitch, former premier of the Kuban republic, formed immediately after the revolution and consisted of seven states in the Circassian region, is in Paris with a delegation and has presented a memorandum to the peace conference asking allied support to prevent the republic "being deprived of independence by Bolshevism."

He said today that the losses of the Kuban Cossacks in the fighting against the Bolsheviks during the last year had been four times as heavy as during three years of war against Germany. He said that one-third of the population of military age had been killed and that not enough men were left to cultivate the soil.

This week is "Quarter Week" at The Lowell Five Cent Savings Bank.

A small bottle of "Danderine" makes hair thick, glossy and wavy

Removes all dandruff, stops itching scalp and falling hair

To be possessed of a head of heavy, beautiful hair; soft, lustrous, fluffy, wavy and free from dandruff is merely a matter of using a little Danderine. It is easy and inexpensive to have nice, soft hair and lots of it. Just get a small bottle of Knowlton's Danderine now—it costs but a few cents—all drug stores recommend it—apply a little as directed and within ten minutes there will be an appearance of abundance, freshness, fluffiness and an incomparable gloss and lustre and try as you will you can not find a trace of dandruff or falling hair; but your real surprise will be after about two weeks' use, when you will see new hair—fine and downy at first—yes—but really new hair—growing out all over your scalp—Danderine is, we believe, the only sure hair grower, destroyer of dandruff and cure for itching scalp, and it never fails to stop falling hair at once.

If you want to prove how pretty and soft your hair really is, moisten a cloth with a little Danderine and carefully draw it through your hair—taking one small strand at a time. Your hair will be soft, glossy and beautiful in just a few moments—a delightful surprise awaits everyone who tries this.—Adv.

Arthur Lee of Tewksbury also was challenged by the commonwealth.

Arthur E. Dutton of Chelmsford was excused because of his declaration against the death penalty.

Michael J. Torpey of Somerville also was opposed to capital punishment and was excused.

Charles A. Reynolds of Cambridge was challenged by Peet.

Peter E. Griffin of Woburn was accepted as the twelfth and last man.

Tendency to Constipation?

USE THIS LAXATIVE!

Dietitians advise a "careful diet," but that is troublesome to most people; physical culturists advise "certain exercises," which is good if one has both the time and the inclination. Doctors advise diet and exercise and medicine. The question is, shall it be a cathartic or purgative medicine? Or a mild, gentle laxative?

Thousands have decided the question to their own satisfaction by using a combination of simple laxative herbs with pepsin known to druggists as Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin. A small dose gives a free, easy movement of the bowels. It is the best substitute for nature herself. In fact, since the ingredients are wholly from the vegetable kingdom it may truthfully be said it is a natural laxative.

Its positive but gentle action on the bowels makes it an ideal remedy for constipation. The dose is small, and it may be taken with perfect safety until the bowels are regulated and act again of their own accord.

The druggist will refund your money if it fails to do as promised.

PRICE AS ALWAYS
In spite of greatly increased laboratory costs due to the War, by sacrificing profits and absorbing war taxes we have maintained the price at which this family laxative has been sold by druggists for the past 26 years. Two sizes—50c and $1.00.

Dr. Caldwell's SYRUP PEPSIN The Perfect Laxative

FREE SAMPLES—If you have never used Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin send for a free trial bottle to Dr. W. B. Caldwell, 468 Washington St., Monticello, Ill. If there are babies at home, ask for a copy of Dr. Caldwell's book, "The Care of Baby."

RIOTOUS SCENES AT CHICAGO

Eve of Election Brings Many Disturbances—Six Candidates For Mayor

Partisan, Religious and Racial Hatreds Flamed High—Police Reserves on Duty

CHICAGO, April 1.—Men and women balloted for mayor and other city officers today after a campaign said to have been the most bitter in the history of the municipality. With six candidates in the field for mayor, partisan, religious and racial hatreds flamed high. Last night there were riotous scenes in the central district which extra police details had difficulty in controlling.

The candidates for mayor are: William Hale Thompson, republican, incumbent.

Robert M. Sweitzer, democrat, county clerk.

Jackley Haynes, independent democrat, state's attorney.

John Fitzpatrick, labor, president Chicago Federation of Labor.

John M. Collins, socialist.

Adolph S. Carr, socialist labor.

Each of the four leading candidates claimed his election today, although political forecasters were at a loss to make anything like credible predictions. The vote of the independents was generally conceded to be the deciding factor. The vote was expected to be heavy, estimates being that 700,000 of the 792,000 persons registered would appear at the 2315 election precincts.

Chief of Police Garrity said every policeman in the city would be ready to prevent trouble.

Among the propositions appearing on the "little ballot" accompanying the majority ballot was the proposition: "Shall Chicago become an anti-saloon territory?"

In view of the government ruling soon to become effective and the adoption of the amendment to the constitution, the dyes decided to make no campaign for adoption of the local prohibitory proposition. The wets, however, have conducted a vigorous campaign against the proposition, with the slogan: "Let congress hear your protest."

"I am sincerely sorry," said Mr. Conway, today, "if I conveyed the wrong impression to my interviewer, but I did not intend it in the broad sense in which it was used. That would be impossible for the heartiest co-operation prevailed between our police department and the unions. I would resent anything that would touch on the patriotism of the regular unions in this city, because I know their members are 100 per cent patriotic. What I had reference to was the I.W.O.U. They came here to Lowell and held meetings in Middle and West Sixth streets, and these are the meetings, and the only meetings, attended by secret service operatives and the only meetings of which I received reports. There was no necessity of covering other union meetings because, as I said before, they are patriotic to the core, and I will never forget their hearty co-operation with our police department."

LAWRENCE PUT IT ON TO HOT CONTESTS IN MATS
LOWELL, 4 TO 2 BOWLING LEAGUE

LAWRENCE, April 1.—Socks Quigley was the star of last night's game, which Lawrence won, 4 to 2. Harold and Hardy broke up Lowell's team play. Quigley's goal in the third period settled the game.

There was no scoring in the first. Quigley twice smashed the ball in only to have it come out. In the second, Lawrence broke in with two goals, but the period ended two goals each. The playing in this period was slow compared to the first.

POLO NOTES
Lawrence, headed by the aggressive Frank Hardy, will play Lowell at the Crescent rink tonight. Regardless of how the boys from down the river go against other teams, they always play good polo against Lowell. On their last appearance here they made Lowell travel at top speed all the way in order to win the game.

Lowell will be out for revenge tonight after the defeat at Lawrence last night.

KID WILLIAMS HAS BIG LEAD IN GOAL SCORING

Kid Williams of Salem has gone over the 300 mark in goal scoring in the American Roller Polo league and his brother, "Red," of Providence comes next with 265. Thompson follows with 250, then comes "Bob" Hart of Lowell, who though making a late start, has succeeded in hammering 240 into the net. Jigger Higgins ranks fifth with 235.

"Red" Williams continues to show the way in going to the spot. He has won 146 goals to the center, and Alexander who is second has 671 to his credit.

"Wild" Charley Farrell still has it all his own way in the foul column. Hardy of Lawrence is second.

Malloy of Worcester tops the goal tenders, with Blount, Conley and Pence not far behind.

BUTLER AND YELLE IN DRAW AT PORTSMOUTH

PORTSMOUTH, N. H., April 1.—Walter Butler of Beverly and Freddie Yelle of Taunton went to a draw before a large gallery at the Rockingham A.A. last night. In the last rounds Butler forced the fight, but was obliged to stand considerable punishment from his opponent's left jab.

Young Cannon and Young Scotty from the C.S.S. and Francisco went six rounds to a draw. Greek Alger of Boston and Young Gaudin of Somersworth fought a draw. T. Fisher of Taunton and J. Robbins of Taunton, the latter seemed to have slightly the better of the bout.

INDOOR RIVALS CONTEST
The officers and non-coms of Co. G, 18th Regiment, M.S.A., held an indoor rifle contest at the armory last night. The team led by Corp. T. Fisher of Taunton, won the trophy. The winning team was composed of Corp. Fisher, Capt. White, Sergeant Wolf, Corporal Wright and Corporal Ludwig and Sturges.

Sloan's Liniment

NEW YORK, April 1.—Gene Melady, manager of Earl Caddock both previous to his winning the world's heavyweight wrestling championship and at present, is very much peeved over the announcement by Jack Curley that the recent defeat of Strangler Lewis by Vladimir Zhyzko entitled the latter to the world's heavyweight wrestling championship because of Caddock's retirement from the game.

Melady takes strong objection to Curley's statement. Says Melady: "No one has authority to make a statement to the effect that Caddock has retired. Let me say emphatically that he has not retired, and further, that he has no intention of retiring. He is still a heavyweight wrestling champion, and all statements to the contrary notwithstanding, is still under my management. As soon as he is mustered out of service he will meet all challengers for the title."

There is not the slightest flaw in Caddock's championship, as he has beaten every one of his ablest competitors and nearly all the minor wrestlers of the class. Caddock's first notable victory was over Joe Stecher in February 8, 1918, by two straight falls in two hours and 30 minutes. On May 8, 1918, Caddock got the decision on points over Zhyzko at Chicago after wrestling two hours and 30 minutes without a fall. Caddock defeated Lewis at Des Moines, June 21, 1918, getting the decision on points after two hours and 30 minutes without a fall.

BOYLE AND THOMAS TRAINING FOR BOUT

The directors of the Crescent A.A. made a good move when they cancelled the Clinton-Duffy bout and signed up Phinney Boyls, of Lowell, and Charlie ("Kid") Thomas of Philadelphia, to appear in the main bout on Thursday night.

Boyle is now travelling like a house afire, and he is in demand throughout New England. His victories over Charlie Farrell, Red Allen and Johnny Buckley prove that he is in splendid shape and ready to tackle any man of his weight in this vicinity.

In Boyle's last local appearance he boxed Johnny Buckley, and his work made a big hit with all those around the ring. He was busy all the way over several times to learn that he is to appear here this week. He is training hard for the match and feels confident of annexing another win. Thomas, who is a very clever and aggressive performer, and he is putting in considerable work in preparation for the bout.

There will be three other bouts.

THOMAS HARD HITTER
Charlie Thomas, who is matched to meet Phinney Boyle at the Crescent A.A. Thursday night, is one of the hardest hitters of his weight in the country. He fought Charlie White of Chicago six rounds in Philadelphia and the reports gave him credit for out-hitting the terrific puncher from the west. He swings with both hands, and he is a rushing, driving fighter. He never rests and in view of this sort of a campaign, Boyle will have plenty to attend to Thursday night. Those familiar with the work of the team believe that the local boxer has a hard evening in prospect.

Boyle's fine work the last month has given him a national standing and the consensus of opinion is that he is now at the top of his form. He has now at the top of his form. He has now at the top of his form. He has now at the top of his form.

TO RETAIN THE LUXURIES TAX
PARIS, Monday, March 31.—By a vote of 140 to 80, the senate tonight endorsed the government's demand for the retention of the luxuries tax by eliminating from the budget bill an article inserted by the chamber of deputies abolishing it.

YANK BEATS WILDE BUT LOSES THE DECISION

LONDON, April 1.—None of the sporting reporters on London morning papers frankly endorse the decision by which Jimmie Wilde, the British flyweight champion, defeated Joe Lynch, an American boxer, on points last night. While some are content to say that the bout was closely contested, others do not disguise their surprise and mention sympathetically the astonishment with which the decision was received by a large part of the spectators.

The Mail's expert says he passed the rounds carefully and at the finish privately decided that Lynch had won 11 and Wilde 1. He wants to know, he says, upon what the referee's verdict was based.

The Daily Sketch says: "Many experts will quarrel with the decision, for Wilde got a worse verdict than he did on the only occasion he has been beaten in a real contest."

This is a reference to the defeat administered to Wilde by Pat Moore of Memphis, Tenn., in the inter-club boxing tournament in London Dec. 11 and 12.

WOULD DELAY OLYMPIC GAMES
PARIS, Monday, March 31.—(Havas.) The French Olympic committee has voted unanimously to abide by the resolution passed on November 23, 1918, in which it and its affiliated bodies decided they would not participate in any Olympiad in which citizens of enemy nations would compete. The committee suggests that the Olympic games shall not be held before 1921, saying that sufficient time must be allowed for the organization of track and field athletics by nations which have been engaged in the war.

TO ARBITRATE TEXTILE STRIKE

Lawrence Strikers Ready To Submit Demands to Arbitration by Endicott

Picketing This Morning
Marked by One Arrest—
Houses Again Stoned

LOWELL, April 1.—The striking textile workers who last night announced readiness to submit their demands to arbitration by Henry B. Endicott, today resumed picketing of mill gates and approaches. The body of pickets was not so large as on some days, but strike leaders said that they felt the position of the strikers was stronger than at any time since the strike started two months ago. They had shown their willingness to arbitrate, they said, adding that if the mill agents failed to meet their suggestion, responsibility for continuing the strike would rest on the agents.

WHAT GOOD IS WEALTH

If you are in poor health, if almost everything that you eat distresses you, frequent headaches, pains in the stomach, bad taste in the mouth, dark rings under the eyes, etc.? The fact is, life is not worth living if you are a chronic sufferer from indigestion and biliousness.

When the stomach is out of order, the liver is not working properly, your heart is obliged to do so much extra work, that it causes palpitation, faintness, and if not checked becomes dangerous.

To feel fresh and fit for your daily duties, you must keep your stomach well, your liver active, and the bowels regular; you can get into this healthy condition, by taking SEVEN BARKS, as a digestive tonic, and stomach remedy. It has no equal, and 50 years of continuous sale proves its wonderful merit.

bitrator of the demands of the strikers, for 54 hours' pay on the new 48 hour schedule. The strike committee was also without word from Mr. Endicott as to whether he would act. While serving as executive chairman of the public safety committee he settled many war-time labor controversies but he concluded his service with the committee some months ago.

Picketing this morning was marked by one arrest, that of a man charged with loitering. The police received reports of two instances in which the homes of mill workers were stoned during the night, but no one was hurt.

Extension of the strike in a small way to the building trades developed when 150 men employed in the construction of an addition to the Washington mill quit work, demanding an increase of 20 per cent in wages.

CRISIS REACHED IN CITY HALL AFFAIRS

For some time past there has been much criticism of our municipal affairs such as the high tax rate, the piling up of loans, the lack of employment, the condition of the water department, the demand for higher wages by the street pavers and ramblers, poor streets and in spite of all the money appropriated no building operations started to offer employment to our returning soldiers and little prospect of anything in this line for months to come. To an executive like Mayor Thompson who means to do right, who has the interests of the city at heart and who devotes all his energies to the service of the public, all this criticism has been very annoying and for some time past his friends have noticed that it has been getting on his nerves.

His honor is temperamentally gentle, mild and good natured, but when aroused by unjust charges or by the perpetration of some imposition on the city, he peers his office like a furious lion in a cage.

On his arrival at city hall this morning it was noticed that he did not wear his accustomed smile, nor did he salute those whom he met with the usual "Good morning." No, sir, he went to his desk with a look of grim determination as if there would be something serious doing in a few minutes and such proved to be the fact. It was just 9:10 by the clock when he pressed the electric button for City Messenger Monahan and within ten seconds Owen was at his side ready for any emergency.

"Mr. Messenger," said His Honor, "I want you to get me a copy of The Sun of April 1 right away as I am informed it has an article of grave concern to this office and myself personally." "Yes, Your Honor," said Owen as he hurried away to buy a copy of the 6 o'clock Sun at 212 a. m.

"JIM" HAMILTON HAS BIRTHDAY PARTY

Just because James Hamilton had reached the biblical three score and ten he decided it would be a very nice thing to invite a few of his friends to celebrate the occasion last night and the Richardson hotel was the place of the delightful celebration. Yesterday was Jim's natal day and we are not using any undue familiarity by calling him "Jim." Inasmuch as he is 70 years young he is still one of the boys and all the boys call him Jim.

Well, anyway, Mr. Hamilton picked upon about 15 of his friends to help him in celebrating his arrival at the 70th milestone on life's highway and it was some celebration, too. Not a boisterous affair in any sense of the word, but a real good time by a bunch of ordinary fellows. Of course the treat was on Jim and if everybody knew Jim it wouldn't be necessary to say any more. But unfortunately for them everybody doesn't know the hero of last night's celebration and it is therefore necessary to state that Jim is the kind of man who insists upon having the best of everything and everything in its proper order. He says it is just as necessary to follow the proper sequence of courses at the banquet table as it is to follow the proper sequence in story writing, and while Jim's name doesn't appear in the list of the country's best story writers, his friends believe he could write some stories that would make the notables sit up and take notice.

The banquet ordered and settled for by the genial Jim last evening was a corker. His guests went from "soup to nuts" and then some. And after the very delectable menu had been discussed, cigars and cigarettes were lighted and then came showers of felicitations that almost upset Jim's equilibrium and made him think that he had brought down upon his own head a raft of blushing sentences, but after all he had to admit that it was pretty good to know that he stood so well with his friends.

"Billy" May of the Arlington hotel was toastmaster, a position for which he holds the degree of "master." His introductions of the various speakers were of the Mayflower variety and so sweet were his richly worded and beautifully rounded exordiums that one could almost scent the perfume of the trailing arbutus. It was one grand evening; an evening that radiated pleasant memories and filled the very room with pleasant reminiscence. And the host, in his whole-souled appreciation of the occasion, determined to leave nothing undone and one of the last numbers on the program was the taking of a flash light picture of the group. The midnight bells were tolling when Jim and his friends stood and joined in the singing of "The Star Spangled Banner." Then everybody wished the host many more years of health and happiness, and Jim, smiling and happy, assured them that he was determined to make the century run. And, the best of it is, he looks the part.

Annoying Girls Continued

They were walking up Rock street on their way home on the night in question, when they saw Ellis and John coming down the street on the opposite side. Defendants also saw the young women at the same time, and immediately crossed over and refused to let them pass. They also reached out to "grab them," but when the girls screamed for help, thereby attracting the attention of a young man who was coming down the street, defendants took to their heels.

The young man hurried to the girls' assistance and walked with them to their homes, after informing two officers of the affair. While the girls were bidding good night to each other, John and Ellis re-appeared on the scene, and the officers were again notified and after a short chase, cornered the pair in a nearby alley.

Defendants denied stopping the young women, and stated that they

PROMINENT DOCTORS EXCITED AND AMAZED

They Are Worked Up Over The Action of Phosphated Iron Making The Weak Strong

Victims of weak nerves and run down systems due to lack of pure blood will be kind to know that there is, according to the best physicians a reliable remedy for them.

Many who were steadily going down hill to permanent illness and nervous breakdown have regained perfect health by taking Phosphated Iron, the new blood and nerve food.

One elderly woman said, "I was all in, looked and felt like the last ray of dawn, was clear discouraged without ambition or appetite. Now look at me. I have the good health and bubbling life of a girl of eighteen, eat and sleep well. It made a new man of my husband too. And though we are well along in years we both face the future with confidence, knowing that as long as our blood is charged with good health-giving Iron and Phosphates we are safe."

Again a bookkeeper who used it says: "If ever a man had a case of nerves it was me. I could not sleep at night, the least sound made me jump, appetite gone, everything was an ill work and I felt myself slipping days. My doctor said: 'Try Phosphated Iron, it is the exact remedy you require.' The first week I improved; my nerves steadied down so that I slept, my appetite and digestion improved, and it seemed to me that I could almost feel the Phosphates and Iron feeding my weak watery blood and tired nerves. I now weigh 25 lbs. more than I ever did, and much stronger."

A prominent physician to whom the above statements were submitted said: "Yes, Phosphated Iron is easily the most wonderful iron preparation yet discovered, its ingredients are well known to all blood and nerve specialists and widely prescribed by them. I have used it very successfully in my own practice and cured many patients whom other physicians had failed. I can highly recommend it for all cases of weak nerves and poor blood, as well as general loss of tone, with absence of appetite. It seldom fails me in this class of cases."

Special Notice: To insure doctors and their patients getting the Genuine Phosphated Iron we have put in capsules only, so do not allow dealers to sell you pills or tablets.

tors of a local bakery, had occasion to fire Sotiros from his employ some time ago, and yesterday afternoon, while working alone in the shop he turned to find his former employer standing in the doorway, evidently in an argumentative mood. Sotiros locked the door and then commenced arguing about some money matters. He couldn't make George see things his way and, accordingly, pulled out a revolver, and while covering his man closely did his best to make some totally unnecessary facial alterations in complainant's countenance.

After Sotiros had left, George thought himself of the law, and accordingly made a complaint against his assailant, with the result that the latter came before the court today on a charge of assault with a dangerous weapon and unlawfully carrying a pistol. A plea of not guilty was entered, and a continuance granted until April 15th.

Starving to Death

As the result of an investigating tour by Agent Richardson of the Humane society and Theodore Pearson, the Boston agent for the prevention of cruelty to animals, Eleftherios Economou was charged in police court with failing to provide proper food and shelter for animals. He pleaded not guilty and the case was continued until April 10.

According to the story of Agent Richardson he and his brother officer were called to Economou's farm in Tyngsboro last Sunday on a complaint by some of the neighbors, and found the conditions there far from satisfactory. Thirteen cows and two pigs were found in such a state that they would shortly have shuffled off this mortal coil forever if help had not arrived, and the most painstaking search failed to reveal anything in the way of food for the animals. "Starving to death is a mild way of putting the conditions we found the animals in," was Agent Richardson's statement.

Several offenders charged with drunkenness drew down small fines, and the probation officer issued seven releases.

If you, mother, had to swallow the awful dose---
Think back to your childhood days---Ugh!
Give your children Cascarets instead. Cascarets taste like candy. Every child loves to take a Cascaret. Besides Cascarets act better on the little liver and bowels when the child is bilious, constipated, feverish and sick. Cascarets are delightful---harmless---cheap!

Each 10 cent box of Cascarets, the pleasant candy cathartic, contains directions and dosage for children aged one year old and upwards. When the little one's tongue turns white, breath feverish, stomach sour, there is nothing better to "work" the nasty bile, souring food and constipation poison from the child's system. Give Cascarets, then never worry.

PALESTINE RESTORATION CAMPAIGN FUND

"Build the Jewish Homeland Now" is the slogan of the Lowell Zionists in their campaign for funds for the $3,000,000 Palestine restoration fund, which is now drawing to a close in this city. The Lowell quota has been set at $5000 and already $2000 has been reported by the local chairman Bennett Silverblatt, under whose direction the drive is being carried on.

The $3,000,000 will be used to meet the necessities of 1919 in the task of setting up a Jewish commonwealth under the trusteeship of Great Britain. The main items for expenditure include administration, public health, department of education, construction and reconstruction, welfare and dependents of the Jewish legion who volunteered in war relief in Egypt and Palestine and special institutions and the American organization work. Under the American organizations are included the expenses of the delegation which the Zionists sent to the peace conference.

The problem which faces the Zionist organization at the present time, according to Chairman Silverblatt, is not so much political as it is technical. It is the problem of preparing the machinery for building up the country. He assumes the political problems to be solved, and that the practical question of rehabilitating the land ought to be the chief concern of the Zionist organization.

"The Zionists of the world," he says, "are facing a concrete problem, namely resettling Palestine with Hebrews. This means preparing the people for the land and the land for the people. It means also preparing the tools and instruments for developing the soil, and other natural resources, and bringing about the condition out of which the inhabitants will eventually develop into a self-sustaining commonwealth."

"It means preparing the individual Jew to be able to assume his right position, his right occupation, at the right time and in the right place. It means determining the proper methods for developing the land as far as agriculture is concerned, providing the proper agricultural implements and the proper machinery for food production. It means the development of industries based upon the natural resources, arranging the proper connections with the industrial centers of the world, where the desirable machinery is produced. All this means the eventual commercial development of the country, then the proper control of production and distribution."

"All this must be planned and done in a systematic way. Concrete plans and budgets must be made up in order to avoid confusion. The starting point must be well defined and linked arranged in their proper sequence in order to form the one chain."

"The American Jews, who are intimately interwoven with the wonderful achievements of this great nation, will have to take a prominent part in the organization of the necessary agricultural and industrial enterprises in Palestine, utilizing all their knowledge of American methods and experiences."

TEWKSBURY HAS $2500 FIRE

A blaze which caused damages to the extent of about $2500 broke out last evening in the old Pillsbury estate, one of Tewksbury's landmarks, which is now owned by the state in primary and occupied by prisoners paroled from state institutions, who are employed in farm work. The blaze was a threatening one and it required the combined efforts of the infantry, town and Billerica fire departments to place it under control, while the occupants of the building also rendered great assistance in combating the flames.

The fire broke out in the stable, which is connected to the main building with an ell, shortly after 7:30 o'clock and an alarm was sent in for the town department. The fire fighters responded in great haste and they were soon assisted by the infantry department. Several lines of hose were laid, the water being pumped from a brook in the rear of the building, but despite all efforts of the fire brigades the flames made rapid progress. Finally, a telephone call was sent to the Billerica department, which made good time to the scene of the fire.

The new pumping apparatus of Billerica was placed in the rear of the building and streams of water drawn from the brook were thrown on the blaze with the result that at about 11:30 the fire was placed under control, the blaze being confined to the barn and ell, which were destroyed. The house was badly flooded by water, but was not burned.

THE POSITION OF SUPERVISOR

Are you thinking of taking a position as census supervisor next year? If so, it is up to you to get busy, for the enumeration which will be made in January, 1920, is now less than ten months distant, and the census bureau already has under consideration the selection of the 400 supervisors, who will have charge of the fully $0,000 enumerators required in the work.

Each applicant for the post of supervisor will be required to pass a test examination and, in addition, a careful personal inquiry is to be made respecting the qualifications of each candidate. Records will be kept of both test and inquiry. In making appointments, preference will be given to those who have had executive, administrative, statistical or accounting experience, provided in all cases that men with such experience have the other qualifications necessary.

The duties of the supervisors will occupy their time for the greater part of a year, beginning about July 1, 1919. Their compensation will be $1500, plus $1 for each 1000 or major fraction thereof of population enumerated. The total compensation will be $1700 to $1800 for the entire district. Clerk hire and other necessary expenses will be paid by the government. All candidates for supervisorships should address their applications to the director of the census, Washington, D. C.

FIELD GLASSES RETURNED

The field glasses loaned to the United States navy by the local police department last March were returned yesterday and in good condition. The glasses were loaned March 19, 1918, when a call for glasses was sent through the country and on Dec. 6, 1918, Supt. Welch received a check for one dollar from the navy department for payment of the glasses if they were never returned or for the loan of the instrument in the event of their being returned. Yesterday the superintendent received a communication from Franklin D. Roosevelt, assistant secretary of the navy, informing him that the glasses were being sent by special delivery, and also that an engraved certificate would be forwarded soon to the department.

The local evening newspaper is the paper that reaches the home when the whole family is there to read it. The Sun fills this bill in Lowell.

THE Y.W.C.A. OPENS $9000 DRIVE

The drive for $9000, the amount needed this year to complete the budget at the Y.W.C.A., was officially and enthusiastically launched last night at the association, when team workers met for supper and consultation. The methods of the campaign were very clearly outlined by Miss Elsie Bratt, president of the association, while other speakers enlarged on the plans and aims.

The city has been divided into districts, and in each district will be several managers, who will supervise and direct large groups of workers. The district managers are as follows: Highlands, Mrs. J. G. Buttrick, Mrs. E. D. Holden, Miss Juna Sleeper and Mrs. W. E. Hatch; Belvidere, Mrs. A. D. Sargent, Mrs. H. A. Smith, Miss Helen W. Barnes, Mrs. William L. Robertson and Mrs. E. B. Sweet; Pawtucketville, Mrs. Joseph Barber and Mrs. T. T. Epton; Centralville, Mrs. E. P. Munn and Mrs. David W. Dewar; down-town, Mrs. William T. Marshall,

Mrs. Royal K. Dexter and Mrs. Walter Mussey.

Rev. William F. English, Jr., was the opening speaker last evening and he laid much stress on the propriety of enthusiasm in a drive for funds, saying that it is indispensable. Others who spoke were: Miss Frances McNeil, Miss Helen Hutton, Mrs. Sophia Rockwood, Mrs. Charles W. Morry, chairman of the finance committee, and Miss Maybelle Burner, industrial secretary.

The workers were on the job bright and early this morning, armed with their red collection cards and an indomitable spirit.

SHOWED PICTURES OF RHEIMS CATHEDRAL

Detailed views of the once beautiful cathedral of Rheims and as it appears now, desecrated by German steel, were shown at the Middlesex Women's club yesterday afternoon, when Clarence Ward of Oberlin college gave his delightful illustrated lecture on "The Cathedral of Rheims." Many of the figures, buttresses, balconies and tracings are mutilated beyond repair so cruelly have the shots of the enemy found their mark in this masterpiece of Gothic architecture.

Many exterior and interior views of the cathedral were shown as well as parts of other French cathedrals, just as rich in legend and history, yet lacking, in the mind of the lecturer, some of the points which have caused men to look upon Rheims as a model of Gothic art. Mr. Ward not only described his pictures most clearly, but he happily went around, or touched but lightly upon the dry and prosaic explanations of facts and figures. He spoke interestingly of the biblical and legendary history of many of the figures and showed many pictures which even the traveler to Rheims misses because of their positions either on the outside or in the interior of the cathedral.

DEALING WITH ENEMY

Charge Against Senator
Humbert, Now on Trial in Paris

PARIS, April 1.—Senator Charles Humbert, with the ribbon of the Legion of Honor in his buttonhole, was brought before a court-martial yesterday to be tried on charges of having had commerce with the enemy.

Three alleged accomplices also sat in the prisoner's box. They were Pierre Lehoir, Capt. Georges Ladoux and William Desouches.

When the trial opened the clerk arose to read the indictment, which consisted of 248 typewritten pages. During the reading the spectators, among whom were many prominent persons, slowly dispersed.

The trial of Senator Humbert on charges of having had commerce with the enemy is another phase of the prosecution of those accused of connection with the defeatist movement in France. The names of Humbert, Bolo Pasha and Ex-Premier Caillaux were connected in the disclosures made by the French authorities and all were arrested. Bolo was tried and executed. Caillaux is in prison awaiting trial.

When the Bolo disclosures were made Humbert was owner of Le Journal and vice president of the army committee of the French senate. He was arrested in Paris, Feb. 8, 1918, and has been in prison since. March 20, 1918, Humbert was ordered by the Paris courts to return to Bolo Pasha 5,000,000 francs which were used in the purchase of Le Journal.

Humbert was also accused of communicating the contents of two documents relative to the national defense to the enemy, but these charges were disproved by an official investigation completed Jan. 19. Feb. 21 the military governor of Paris asked that the senator be prosecuted for having used his influence to have the army buy certain airplane motors in which he was interested.

Lenoir, Ladoux and Desouches were arrested as a result of the investigation of the source of the money used in buying the controlling interest in Le Journal. Lenoir and Desouches being placed in custody Oct. 25, 1917, and Ladoux Jan. 2, 1918. Ladoux was formerly chief of the intelligence bureau at the ministry of war, and with Lenoir has been mentioned in connection with abuses in the French telegraph service early in the war.

URGES UNIFORM BANKING SYSTEM

NEW ORLEANS, April 1.—Declaring the banks of the country are so interrelated that the possibility of failure of any group will bring about a condition creating panic, Melvin A. Traylor, a Chicago banker, in an address last night to members of the Association of Reserve City Bankers, declared a uniform banking system for the United States was necessary as a safeguard against such dangers. Mr. Traylor urged the necessity of all banks, federal and state, becoming members of the Federal Reserve system and in emphasizing the need of a uniform system gave the following reasons:

- 1.—To secure co-operation between Federal Reserve banks and all classes of banking institutions.
- 2.—To assure greater safety to all banks and their depositors.
- 3.—To give the federal reserve board supervision over all credit institutions of the United States.
- 4.—To prevent political antagonism to the present system.

WARNS AGAINST STRIKES

Gen. Dickman Issues Proclamation—300 German Laborers Requisitioned

COBLENZ, Monday, March 31.—(By the Associated Press)—Unable to obtain Germans to work voluntarily on several of the Third Army supply depots which are under construction near Bendorf, American military authorities today requisitioned 300 laborers through the German civil officials. The men will be paid nine marks per day, with the privilege of receiving half this amount in food, if desired.

Coming to the difficulties encountered in obtaining volunteer workmen and because of several minor labor disturbances recently among civilians employed under American supervision General Dickman, commander of the American army of occupation, today issued a warning against strikes. This proclamation, which has been circulated throughout the occupied area, says that all laborers voluntarily in the service of employers engaged in work for Americans, or working for the army, under requisition or otherwise, are "forbidden to join in any conspiracy or plan to attempt to carry out any scheme to strike or abandon work." It announces that "any violation of this order will be punished by American military tribunals."

BROUGHT WAR TO END

Hindenburg's Demand Forced
Germany To Take Steps
To Secure Armistice

LONDON, April 1.—(British Wireless Service)—In connection with the discussion which has been carried on in the German press as to whether Prince Max of Baden, then imperial chancellor, took the initiative in demanding and in offering peace in October last, the Wolff Bureau publishes a letter from Field Marshal von Hindenburg, dated Oct. 30, which shows that on that date German army headquarters confirmed the demand it had made already in September that such peace offers should be made. In his letter Von Hindenburg says:

"In consequence of the disaster on the Macedonian front, with its attendant weakening of the reserves of the west front, and in consequence of the impossibility of replacing the great losses sustained in recent encounters, there is now, humanly speaking, no longer any possibility of our being able to impose peace on the enemy."

"Our opponents are constantly receiving reinforcements. While the elements of our rear still hold together and may still offer some resistance to the renewed attacks of the enemy, our situation is becoming very precarious and may at any moment place the army command under the necessity of making a comprehensive decision."

"In these circumstances, it is imperative that we cease the struggle in order to save the German people and our allies from unnecessary sacrifices. Every day's loss in this respect costs the lives of thousands of German soldiers."

On receipt of this letter, says the Wolff Bureau, the government had no choice but to take steps at once to obtain an armistice and to offer to conclude peace.

THREE KILLED IN SEAPLANE COLLISION

PENSACOLA, Fla., April 1.—Ensigns Carl Wigle and L. A. Robbins and Student Officer E. L. D. Trux were killed and Ensign Jesse Simpson was injured in the collision of two seaplanes yesterday at the naval air station here. The addresses of the men were not announced.

Domino

not the shape of a sugar but the name of a whole
sugar family

"Domino" sounds like a tablet sugar. It is, but it's more than that—Domino is the name of a whole sugar family:

Granulated—for baking, cooking, sweetening iced beverages, candy-making.

Tablets—for tea, coffee, cocoa and chocolate.

Powdered—for fruits, cereals, dusting pies and cookies.

Confectioners—icings and fondants.

Old-Fashioned Brown—baked beans, candied sweet potatoes, tarts, cakes and on the children's bread.

All come to you clean and pure, in sturdy cartons or strong cotton bags, accurately weighed, packed and sealed by machine.

ADVISE MINERS TO ACCEPT TERMS

LONDON, Monday, March 31.—Delegates of Scottish miners, meeting at Glasgow, have endorsed the government's terms as to wages and working conditions based on the recent report of the coal commission of which Justice Sir John Sankey is chairman and have advised the miners to accept them. A similar action has been taken by the miners' associations in the Yorkshire and Cleveland fields, while the Lancashire miners are reported to be generally satisfied.

MANSEAU'S STORE NOT DAMAGED

In the report yesterday of the fire that occurred in the Simpson hink at 598-544 Merrimack street Sunday morning it was stated that the store and stock of J. C. Manseau, corner of Hanover and Merrimack streets had been damaged. Mr. Manseau called The Sun by telephone today to state that neither his store nor his stock was injured in any way. The Sun gladly makes the correction requested by Mr. Manseau.

BAY STATE "PASSUS"

The new passes for employees of the local Bay State system were issued today and made quite a hit with the "boys." Besides the fact that the new system does away with the bother of tearing off strips from a ticket-book, which was the old method, the cards also have a photo of the owner on the left hand corner and some of the men modestly admit they never realized how good looking they were until this innovation was put into effect. And others—well, nufsed.

Swift & Company's Profit of 2.04 cents on each dollar of sales

AS IT IS

The diagram at the top shows the distribution of the average Swift dollar received from sales of beef, pork and mutton, and their by-products, during 1918. The magnifying glass brings out the distribution of the 2.04 cents profit per dollar of sales:

- .94 of one per cent goes to pay interest on borrowed money, taxes, etc.
- .50 of one per cent goes to pay dividends to shareholders.
- .60 of one per cent remains in the business to help in improving and financing the business.

LATEST WILSON WARNS AGAINST DELAY

PARIS, April 1. (By the Associated Press.)—What is construed as a warning that the world could not long continue further delay in the adjustment of peace, was delivered to the allied premiers and military representatives of the associated powers by President Wilson yesterday.

RESUME TRADE WITH POLAND AND ESTHONIA

WASHINGTON, April 1.—The war trade board announced today the resumption of trade with Poland and with Esthonia, one of the four Baltic provinces in Russia.

Action by the board permitting persons in the United States to trade and communicate freely with the two countries, the announcement said, was taken concurrently with the associated governments and followed a decision reached in Paris.

Shipment of commodities to Poland should be routed via Danzig, the announcement by the war trade board said. The allies are now believed to have the situation relative to Danzig as well in hand that shipments through the German port may be made with safety.

BRIEF BUT IMPORTANT WIRE DESPATCHES

NEW YORK, April 1.—Fifteen hundred troops arrived here today on the steamship Knucknack from St. Nazaire, France.

WASHINGTON, April 1.—So far as the army is concerned, any beverage containing 1 per cent of alcohol will be considered "intoxicating." This decision of the judge advocate general was approved today by Secretary Baker.

LONDON, April 1.—Serious rioting occurred yesterday at Frankfurt-on-the-Main, according to a Central News despatch from Amsterdam. Crowds attacked the police station, released the prisoners and set fire to the building, but order was restored.

NEW YORK, April 1.—After failing to blow open a safe in a hotel at Chiffon, N. J., burglars carried it across Manhattan early today on a truck, crossed the ferry to Long Island City and blew it open on a vacant lot. Their booty consisted of whiskey certificates valued at $5000, jewelry worth $300 and $250 in cash.

NEW YORK, April 1.—Immediate opening of credit to Poland for the purchase of American war materials in France to equip and send a Polish army of 500,000 men to Danzig to avert "disaster" was urged in a cablegram sent to President Wilson in Paris and made public here today by the Polish national defense committee.

EARLY MORNING FIRE IN CHELMSFORD

But for the quick response and efficient work of the members of the Chelmsford fire department early this morning it is believed that the home and stable of James I. Emerson, located a short distance from the center of the village would have been completely destroyed by fire, but as it was the stable was saved, but the damage to the house and contents will amount to approximately $2500.

The fire started by a defective chimney at about 2:30 o'clock, but fortunately the flames were discovered shortly afterwards by the occupants of the house, Mr. Emerson and his housekeeper, Miss Ford. A hurried alarm was sent in and with the assistance of neighbors a good portion of the furniture was removed from the building. When the firemen arrived the flames were eating their way through the roof and were threatening to extend to the barn by way of an ell. Several lines of hose were laid, while chemical apparatus were also used to advantage. The fire was put out at about 5 o'clock.

CAPT. JOHN C. LEGGAT BACK FROM FRANCE

Capt. John C. Leggat, who has been in France for a year and a half as a member of Gen. Cole's staff, returned to Lowell today and is now residing at his home, 610 Broadway.

KILLED IN SNOWSLIDE

Chief Engineer and Several Section Hands Lost Lives

EDMONTON, Alberta, April 1.—Alfred Fraser of Winnipeg, chief engineer of the western lines of the Canadian Northern railway and several section hands were killed yesterday, as a snow slide in the Rockies, according to word which reached here to last night.

If you want to reach the people and spend their money in Lowell, advertise in The Sun, Lowell's greatest newspaper.

MARKET

NEW YORK, April 1.—Shipping and leather shares contributed to the firm opening of today's stock market, gaining 1 to 1 1/2 points. Popular equities and Distilling issues gained further progress, but motor, oil and food shares were moderately reactionary. Corn products losing a point. United States Steel advanced slightly at the outset, but rallied on the strength of affiliated steels and Baldwin locomotive. Itails were rarely quoted and little changed in the first half hour.

Industrial Alcohol advanced 5 points on reports about a new fuel. Shipping, especially Atlantic Gulf, and Steels and equipments extended their advances. Further inquiry was noted for California Packing, American Can, American Smelting and the metal group. Oils came forward at noon. Texas and Pacific Land Trust certificates advanced 4 1/2 points on one sale. Relaxed money rates favored the further rise of the market. Industrial Alcohol increased its gain to 8 1/2 points and oils and coppers became more active at 1 to 2 1/2 point advances. Itails hardened under lead of facilities and trailers. The closing was irregular.

GREEK BISHOP STUDIES CONDITIONS HERE

Bishop Alexander, head of the Greek Orthodox church in this country, who has been in this city for the past three days, studying conditions among his people, returned to his headquarters in New York today. The distinguished visitor was very much pleased with conditions in Lowell and before leaving stated that bit by bit the Lowell church was progressing. His Grace said that there are a few matters of no great importance which must be attended to, but otherwise great progress has been made. He has visited many churches in this country and states that under the direction of a bishop he hopes that the coming years may be characterized by prosperity for the Greek Orthodox church. This is the first time in the history of the Greek Orthodox church that a bishop has taken charge of the United States district.

AMUSEMENT NOTES

KIDNEY TREATMENT

No one act predominates at Keith's this week and the bill is well balanced enough to suit severely through the week. The program abounds with sailor types—one real "sailor," Sailor Kelly, who is on an extended tour of the coast, and two others who work in sailor attire, LeMaire, Hayes & Co., and the Buch brothers. Sailor Kelly is a good looking, earnest sort of a chap who sings some and whatever his songs lack in time they make up in originality, and he gets them across in good shape. He makes a plea for the returning soldier and sailor and will be welcomed throughout his engagement.

LeMaire, Hayes & Co. are black face comedians who chatter continuously about nothing in particular. LeMaire supplies most of the fun as he works his "Lookout" post—looking out principally for himself. Their act terminates a little sooner than is expected and at such short time when the audience is looking for more.

Much after the style of Belle Baker to Jeanette Childer, although the dances as well as songs, which very few singing comedians do. She is billed as the "Joy girl" and she certainly seems to enjoy doing her work and the audience last night enjoyed having her around. Her "How Are You Going to Keep 'Em Down on the Farm After They've Seen Parade?" although not brand new, is done as well as on any previous time here, and may be a little better. She has studied the Chaplin walk and mannerisms and imitates Charlie to the letter.

There is a lot of finish and olat to the acting of Frank Wood and Bunge Wyde, who present a little satire staged in Greenwich Village. The act is much better than his reception, although it fluctuates in class, having a much better start than finish.

Ben and Hazel Marx were very well thought of last night, although they admit being but nonsensical nonentities. If one has followed the trend of popular singing and dancing for the past few years he will be able to appreciate Ben, but if he has allowed himself to forget much of the act in the act, will shoot right by without leaving a smile.

The Buch brothers are trampoline workers of the highest order and they help out with a little comedy now and then. They are extremely clever performers in their specialty. Nixon and Norris open the bill with musical numbers. The limogram pictures show, among other things, the parade of the 25th Division in New York.

THE STRAND

A bit of novelty in the form of songs and stories by veterans of the great world war is being given at the Strand theatre for the first three days of the week. The program is being supplied by four young men who recently returned from overseas after considerable experience in the war.

Of course the photo plays have not been forgotten by the management and accordingly one of the best limogram productions shown in this city in a long time is being shown at the Strand. "The Love Defender" is a rapid moving drama filled with thrills. It unfolds the story of a young doctor who married the woman while loving another. After his marriage he decides he had made a mistake and straightway asks his wife for a divorce, but only on one condition. The condition of the story is a happy and satisfactory one for all. In this interesting play Miss June Elyse is seen in the title role and her work is exceptionally clever.

"His Brightness" is another dramatic production of great merit. It features the famous star, Roscoe Haysakawa in the title role, and that speaks highly for the play. The plot of the play is based on the desire of a handsome youth for revenge. The boy's father is an American naval officer. The story covers the boy's discovery of his mother's life history after he has reached the age of 21, when, according to the code of the Samurai he became responsible for the honor of his family. He determines to be avenged upon his father, who has become a naval officer on an American ship and comes to this country as a cabin boy. While in the states he goes through a series of real and interesting adventures, which culminate in romance, the result of which is his absorption of revenge and his enlistment as a fighter for world's democracy.

The soloist for the week is Miss Annette Lawick, who has been heard at the Strand on various occasions, and whose voice is always pleasing. The two-part Vitagraph comedy is as humorous as ever, while the Universal Weekly is very interesting and instructive. The organ recital is very pleasing. There will be no regular performance this evening as the theatre has been given over to the Boston Symphony orchestra concert.

"WHEN HE CAME BACK" COMEDY DRAMA AT THE LOWELL OPERA HOUSE THIS WEEK

"When He Came Back" a comedy drama of today from the pen of Vincent Lawrence, was presented by the Emerson players before appreciative audiences at the Lowell Opera House yesterday afternoon and last evening. The play is in three acts and was but recently released for stock production.

"When He Came Back" is a play that gives a capable company an excellent opportunity to score heavily. The play is distinctly out of the ordinary, further demonstrating Director Glasziou's ability to select productions that please. The settings are elaborate, the costumes beautiful, the acting splendid, and all other details are carried out in a manner that reflects great credit on the management and players. Not the slightest hitch was noticeable last evening and all members of the company gave their parts excellently.

The story is that of a young man who volunteered to take his part in hunting the Hun when Old Glory called. When though it meant leaving his bride of a day behind. After several months he reappears at his wife's house, a self-confessed deserter. His wife tries her best to shield him from shame and disgrace and to help him return to France and redeem himself. But thanks to the able efforts of a former suitor, who makes a host of efforts in vain. A government officer appears and her husband is placed under arrest. How the tangled threads of the young couple's lives are unravelled and how the man emerges from his troubles with flying colors is a story which would take too long to tell. But in the end sunshine comes again and we suppose they all lived happily ever after.

What's Back of the "Victory" Loan

The United States Liberty Loan is the safest, best secured investment in the entire world today. Back of it are the almost unlimited resources of the richest country in the whole world. The mineral wealth in our mountains, the agricultural wealth of our plains, the oil sweeping through our soil, our river banks bristling with industrial plants, our cities with their wealth of real estate, our forests and our herds—all these and much more are the collateral our government offers in its promise to pay back every dollar invested in the purchase of Liberty Loans.

Miss Salisbury is given an opportunity to display her remarkable versatility and taking advantage of the part, plays her role in a manner that stamps her as an actress of exceptional ability. The character which she portrays, that of the courageous little war bride, calls for natural charm and sweetness, and Miss Salisbury possesses both these qualifications and consequently gives the part the way the author intended it should be presented.

Julian Noy, as "The Man Who Came Back," seemingly "disgraced" and ruined, has a part that demands considerable dramatic talent, and he possesses everything necessary to give the role a finished interpretation. His act throughout the entire performance is of a very high standard, and he shares with Miss Salisbury in carrying the play to a successful and happy climax.

Others who take part in this pleasing production are Miss Elizabeth Perry, Arthur Altemeyer, Arthur Lachner, Arthur Bachmann, George Bryant, Conroy, Miss Louise, Gerald Heywood, Martin Mickell, Kerwin Winkler, and last but not least, Director Augusta J. Glasziou. In passing, it should be said that the entire production of the play is what might be expected from one who is known to be "a master of his craft."

"MISS WINGS OF THE CABBAGE PATCH" AT THE MERRIMACK SQUARE THEATRE

It would be hard to find a more lovable person than Marguerite Clark as "Lover Mary," the heroine of "Miss Wings of the Cabbage Patch," which is being shown at the Merrimack Square theatre the first part of the present week. That delightful tomboy whose antics in the story win the admiration of thousands of readers is a remarkable character and it takes the skill of such an actress as Miss Clark to depict it properly.

"Miss Wings of the Cabbage Patch" was written by Alice Hegan Rice, and dramatized by Anne Crawford Fletcher. It was first presented at the Savoy Theatre in 1911 by Hugh Ford.

In the production the best points of the play and the play has been incorporated with signal results. Miss Clark portrays the role of Lover Mary, a mother in an orphanage, in whose care is placed a child of whose parents she is ignorant and whom she loves like a brother. This child subsequently is the central figure of an interesting story, the development of which provokes many dramatic situations and of which Miss Clark makes the most.

The photography of the production is all that could be desired and the settings can be described by no other term than unique. All who love optimism and are admirers of an ideal home life should see the picture. "The Wings of the Cabbage Patch" is a charming, in every way and reflects credit both upon the producer and the acting cast.

The other feature for the early part of the week is Charles Ray in "The Girl Dodger," the story of a bashful young fellow who succumbs to the wiles of a stage dancer and loses all his former fear of the fair sex. Nobody can depict this sort of character type as can Charles Ray and the present vehicle furnishes him abundant opportunity for self-expression.

The comedy feature of the program is "Riley's Washings," and the International News picture shows the latest events in the world of news.

People Constipated and Don't Know It!

It seems odd, but it is true, that you may be constipated and not know it. You can see why it is. Take a glass and pour in water until full. If you keep on pouring in water after the glass is full, it will run over, but the glass stays full.

Just so with your bowels; they get full of waste matter, and then they pass off or expel from the body only about the same amount that goes into it in the form of food.

So you may have a movement of the bowels every day and yet there will remain waste matter that ought to be removed.

Give your bowels a gentle but thorough cleaning out and you'll feel great.

A fine prescription for this is put up and sold under the name of Dr. T. C. Lee's "Bowel Cleaners" and it is used in their own families. Costs but little and brings health to men, women and children. Sweet and pleasant tasting. Works gently. Children like it. Remember the name, Dr. T. C. Lee's "Bowel Cleaners."

DENIES SALE OF LAND TO JAPANESE

CALEXICO, Calif., April 1.—Esteban Cantu, governor of Lower California, today issued a statement that he had no knowledge whatever of the alleged pending sale of Lower California land by the California-Mexico Land & Cattle Co. to a Japanese syndicate except what he had gained from press reports.

LOS ANGELES, Calif., April 1.—Supplementing his denial last night that the California-Mexico Land & Cattle Co., which owns and operates a tract of 830,000 acres in Lower California, contemplated any leases or other arrangements with Japanese that were not first approved by the state department at Washington, Harry Chandler, president of the company, said today that the company had submitted a bill of $513,000 for loss of cattle, horses and other supplies in the Madero revolution.

"We have had no difficulty with the government of Lower California since Esteban Cantu came here as military chief and remained in civil authority," said Mr. Chandler, "but in revolutionary days, it was a different story."

STRONG FOR PROHIBITION

King Khama of Bechuana-land, So. Africa, To Stop Work if "Dimk" Is Sold

LONDON, March 24.—(Correspondence of the Associated Press).—While an important section of the London press never misses an opportunity to poke fun at the United States for adopting the prohibition amendment, the newspapers today were called upon to chronicle the fact that within the empire there is a native king who not only endorses prohibition but insists that his people shall agree with him.

King Khama, ruler of Bechuana-land, South Africa, was informed that a government commission had recommended the sale of light wines and beers to the natives. He immediately declared that if the plan was carried out he would forbid his subjects from working in the gold mines. The industrial situation already rendered almost intolerable by the loss of thousands of native workers would thus become alarming. The temperance party led by the king, is strong in South Africa.

LOWELL MAN ARRESTED IN LAWRENCE

Charles Conley, aged 25 years, who gave his home as Lowell, was arrested in Lawrence Sunday night, charged with being a fugitive from justice from New Jersey. It is alleged that Conley assaulted and robbed Supt. Shenk of the Newark Pump Works and got away with valuable papers.

Shortly after the assault the Lawrence police were notified by the Newark police to the effect that Conley was in the down-river city and that mail had been sent to him, addressed "general delivery," and when Conley called at the postoffice for his mail he was placed under arrest. At first he denied being the man wanted, but later, so the Lawrence police claim, he admitted having had some trouble with Supt. Shenk. He also claimed he was purchasing agent for the Newark Pump Works.

CO-OPERATIVE STORES

Non-Partisan League, and Chicago Labor Party To Open Shops in Chicago

CHICAGO, April 1.—The recently formed alliance between the non-partisan league and the Chicago labor party will make itself apparent in Chicago soon by the appearance of co-operative stores, according to Morton L. Johnson, secretary of the labor party. He said today that there would be one store in each of the city's 35 wards, and that farm products would be brought to them direct from North Dakota, where the non-partisan league is in political control and has put many of its theories into practice. Johnson says that the stores will also serve as labor union headquarters from which strikes will be directed as necessary.

PEACE TREATY SIGNED—APRIL FOOL!

PARIS, April 1.—Somebody started a story this morning that Col. House had announced that the peace treaty had been signed. The report rapidly spread all over Paris and the telephone wires to the American headquarters in the Hotel Crillon became hot with inquiries as to the truth of the rumor. It did not take long, however, for inquiries to realize the character of the report when they were reminded that today was April 1st.

DEBS THREATENS GENERAL STRIKE

AKRON, O., April 1.—Eugene V. Debs, socialist leader, yesterday threatened to call a general strike of his party throughout the country unless he is granted a rehearing in the courts on charges upon which he was convicted under the espionage act. Debs was confined to bed with a bad attack of lumbago at the home of Mrs. Margaret Prevey, here, when notified that the United States supreme court had refused him a rehearing. He refused to see newspapermen, but through Mrs. Prevey issued the following statement to the press: "The matter is in the hands of my attorney, Seymour Steadman of Chicago. I do not know what legal action he will follow, as I have received no word from him as yet. "Unless something further can be done, the program of the party to tie up the country in a general strike will be fulfilled. I am prepared to fight to the end."

Mrs. Prevey said Debs' condition is not serious and that he would be able to be out within a few days.

REVOLUTION STAGED TO FRIGHTEN ALLIES

PARIS, Monday, March 31.—(By the Associated Press). Reports to the French foreign office indicate that the Hungarian revolution was staged largely with the purpose of testing the strength of the will of the entente powers and was designed to frighten them with the idea that Germany might also rapidly disintegrate.

AUTOS IN COLLISION

An automobile owned and operated by M. A. Feindel, the local garage man and one owned and operated by Geo. Feldman, a candy dealer of this city, collided in Central street near the junction of Market street at about 12:15 o'clock this afternoon, but no serious damage resulted. The collision occurred when the Feindel machine was brought to a stop, the Feldman car striking it in the rear.

SEEKING HIS BROTHER
John Wyatt, of 389 Concord avenue, Detroit, Mich., has written a letter to Supt. Welch, requesting him to locate, if possible, his brother, Jeffery Wyatt, who when last heard from was making his home in this city. According to the letter Jeffery was a stone mason by occupation and would be 75 years of age, if living.

INCARNATION OF WILL POWER

Dr. James J. Walsh so Describes Marshal Foch in Eloquent Lecture

Eminent Speaker Tells of Qualities of Generalissimo of Allied Forces

Surrounding a serious and instructive study of Marshal Ferdinand Foch, commander-in-chief of the allied forces in the world war, with sparkling wit and brilliant humor, Dr. James J. Walsh, one of the most highly estimated leaders of the American lecture platform, entertained several thousand people in Associate hall last evening with his celebrated lecture on the victorious generalissimo.

Dr. Walsh knew Foch with that knowledge that only persistent and concentrated study can produce, and he generously poured forth what he knew in unstinted measure to those before him. He characterized the French general as "the incarnation of will power," told of his years of obscurity as a petty officer in the French army, the man who had devoted 40 years of his life to the army and had received little or no return until the opportunity to burst forth in the blaze of glory that today is considered one of the marvels born of the titanic struggle.

Dr. Walsh did not come to Lowell as an unknown quantity. Indeed, it would not be fair to say that such a man could go any place a stranger. His reputation would be an all-sufficient preventative for such a development. But in coming to Lowell he came to the midst of a particularly cordial atmosphere as he had been heard here in several previous lectures.

It ever there was a lecturer who believed in the effectiveness of "seasoning" his discourse it is the eminent medical director of the school of sociology at Fordham and professor of physiological psychology at Cathedral college, New York. In the midst of a detailed and somewhat technical narration of the military situation in the days that Foch was doing his greatest work, he became conscious of the possibility that such details might bore his audience, frankly admitted it and then launched off into the lighter channel of witty stories.

Then once more back to his main theme, and so on. Not once did his audience lose interest.

Incidental to his lecture theme, he took occasion to draw frequent morals from the career of Foch and apply them to American conditions of the present time, candidly admitting that what he said was his belief and presenting his credos with a personal touch that was most charming. A flourish that was most charming.

A flourish that was most charming.

Dr. Walsh opened his lecture by saying that the world war had produced three great surprises. The first was that it had happened at all. Five years ago few people would have believed that such a war was possible.

The second surprise was the way the war was waged. We had been assured that men wouldn't count for much in the war, that machines would be most important. It looked as though machine guns, artillery, etc., were to count most, but, as a matter of fact, the history of the world. Why? Well, men used the first tool they ever had—the spade—and dug in. And when enough men got into the war to do it, it should end, it ended.

The finding of the commander of the victorious forces was the third surprise. It seemed impossible, Dr. Walsh said, that a man could open his soul to millions of men and inspire them to hurl themselves against the foe. Napoleon had tried it but failed with some hundred thousands of men, but we found a man who was able to command four millions of men. That man is Marshal Ferdinand Foch.

Incarnation of Will Power

"Foch is an incarnation of will power," continued Dr. Walsh. "We used to hear a lot about people being told that if they had knowledge they could do anything. Now we know that the man who has the will power to make use of his knowledge is the successful man.

"Foch was born in the small town of Tarn and his father's name was Napoleon. These facts are pointed out as being indicative of his future greatness. At the age of 12 he had read a six-volume history that was intended for grown-up people. Foch and Faber, the famous entomologist, were graduated from the same small college.

"I should like to say that I am in favor of the small college. I believe in intensive rather than extensive training. I don't believe in the elective system. In the Jesuit college which Foch attended from the age of 15 to 19 there was no elective system. The good Jesuits, with 200 years of experience as teachers behind them, had the temerity to say that Foch should study what they decided, not what he decided.

"We have two institutions in our own country that never have conquered with the elective system. They are Annapolis and West Point. If you want to know whether these men know their business ask the Germans.

No White to Bleed

"Foch entered in the Franco-Prussian war in 1870 and 1871, but did not see extensive service. Then he determined to revenge what the Germans had done and entered a Polytechnic school. Upon graduation he had no pull of powerful friends so he was sent to the frontier as an army officer. He was stationed in nearly every part of France and saw more of the French people and the French army than any other French officer. Now we can see how providential that was. You know, we were saying about the middle of the war that the French were being 'bled white.' We know now that there's nothing white in French blood to be bled.

"Foch didn't get a real opportunity in the army for 30 years. Then Clemenceau, the premier, wanted a director of the school of war. Foch was the man. When he was offered the position Foch reminded the premier that he had a brother a Jesuit. It was considered very poor form to have a Jesuit brother in those days, you know. But Clemenceau didn't care and Foch was appointed.

Foch and the War

"Then came the war—the opportunity for which Foch had been waiting. There were three or four French officers who had to have their turn before Foch. Two of them proved absolutely incompetent. In 1917 Clemenceau made Foch commander of the French armies. Again the question of Foch's brother being a Jesuit came up. But again it made no difference.

"In the early part of 1918 the fact was recognized that there would have to be one commander for all the allied armies and that command went to Foch.

"But he couldn't do what he wanted at once. His idea was to find out what the other fellow was going to do and then do it first. But he couldn't go on the offensive right away. The Germans thought that Battle day, July 14, the French Fourth of July, would see a lot of jollification in the French lines. That would be a good time to attack, they thought.

"But there was no jollification in the lines. There was a little bit of it five miles behind the lines for the German aviators to see. That was a bit of camouflage.

"About this time a German prisoner was captured and he had orders which showed that the Hun was to go over the top at 12.10. At 11.40 Foch sent a barrage up. The Germans knew that they had been anticipated but there was no way of changing their plans for their lines extended along a 22-mile front. The Germans went through two lines and when they came to the third, thought it was the last. But again Foch had anticipated them. They were stopped and as they recoiled he launched his counter-attack.

Coming of the Americans

"The Americans were coming over pretty fast about this time and the Germans went out to 'get' them. They said that we wouldn't fight. But on the 26th of July we had twice penetrated the German line. Then it is said that the German staff sent word to the Kaiser that he had better think of abdication. If the young, fresh Americans could do such work the first time they tried, and there were thousands of others waiting to come over, it was time to think of giving up. That was the beginning of the end.

"We had been in the war only six weeks when General Corey in his historic emergency put rules in the hands of our engineers and when they had

Had Not Enjoyed a Meal in Two Years

Everything Soured on Stomach—How Mr. King Found Relief

"I suffered ten years with stomach trouble and spent lots of money for medicine, but I never found any relief until I commenced using Milk Emulsion. I tell you, I had not enjoyed a meal in two years. Everything soured on my stomach. I have used but one bottle and feel that I am thoroughly cured."—John W. King, Bensenville, Ind.

The blessed relief from stomach trouble, and the real insidious benefit which Milk Emulsion brings, are easily within the reach of every sufferer. It is so guaranteed that it costs nothing to try.

Milk Emulsion is a pleasant, nutritious food and a corrective medicine. It restores healthy, natural bowel action, does away with all need of pills and physics. It promotes appetite and quickly purges the digestive organs into shape to receive food. As a builder of flesh and strength, Milk Emulsion is strongly recommended to run-down nervous people, and it has produced amazing results in many cases of tuberculosis of the lungs. Chronic asthma, bronchitis and constipation are promptly relieved—usually in one day.

This is the only solid emulsion made, and so palatable that it is eaten with a spoon like ice cream. A truly wonderful medicine for weak, sickly children.

No matter how severe your case, you are urged to try Milk Emulsion under this guarantee—Take six bottles home with you, two if according to directions and if not satisfied with the results, your money will be promptly refunded. Prices 60c and $1.20 per bottle. The Milk Emulsion Co., Fort Wayne, Ind. Sold and guaranteed by Brod Howard—Adv.

finished their work, Foch said that they were as good fighters as his more behind the lines. The British Moreocans. That should have been a lesson for the Germans. But the Germans didn't want to learn. It is said that the country with the most psychologists least knew the minds of men.

"The allies were nearly at the end of their tether when we came over. The first place we went in in any great numbers was at Cantigny and there the Germans with diabolical ingenuity launched the most terrible gas attack of the war. They thought the morale of the young Americans would be broken. But it wasn't.

"Foch, knowing them, gave them the hardest terrain in France to cover, over in the Argonne. They took the Argonne forest, one of the most notable achievements of the war. The Argonne had often been a centre of warfare in past history but never had it been taken by direct attack by any army until the Americans took it in August, 1918.

"When the armistice was signed there were 1,390,000 Americans on the firing line. There were 600,000 more behind the lines. The British at that time had 910,000 men on the line. Don't let anyone tell you that we didn't count for much at the end of the war.

Foch, the Man

"What sort of man is Foch? He is small in stature, scholarly, unassuming, doesn't do things until asked, but then does them with tenacity. He has a wonderful depth of play—prays himself and inspires others to pray. Many a French soldier has had to wait while the generalissimo of the allied forces knelt quietly before an altar and prayed in some quiet church. He asked the good nuns to have the children of France pray for success.

"His great maxim of life is that maxim of the patron of the Jesuits, St. Ignatius: 'Pray as though everything depended on God—and then work as though it depended on you!'

"That's why Foch was so confident and undisturbed when he was

Reign of Terror in Budapest

PRAGUE, Sunday, March 30.—The communists have set up a reign of terror in Budapest, according to M. Ken, a member of the Czechoslovak mission to Budapest, who returned here today. The stocks of food are sufficient for only ten days and only three hundred head of cattle are coming into the city daily instead of the normal 3500. Famine is feared. The coal situation is grave.

The population of Budapest, M. Ken adds, hopes for intervention by the allies.

State of Siege at Alicante, Spain

called upon to bear the responsibility of the lives of three and a half million men. He had such a responsibility, yet he could eat and sleep, think quietly and change his plans in a minute. That was why he was great.

"When he sent the message to Joffre in the first battle of the Marne he said his left wing was broken, his centre weakened but that he should strike with his right. That was typically Foch.

"He has lost his only son and has lost his son-in-law. He says that he will spend a few years of his old age with children who never saw their fathers. He has accepted the baton of the Knights of Columbus. There are now half a million members to welcome him when he comes to this country, as they say he is coming. We want a million. We all want to welcome him when he comes."

Mrs. Charles A. Delaronde and daughter Dorothy, who for the past week have been guests of local relatives, returned to their home yesterday.

The pupils and teachers of the Butler school have recently had the opportunity to hear two officers from the war zones tell of their experiences and as it happens, both speakers have been cited for their gallantry. Capt. Joseph F. Gargan of the U. S. Marine corps, a graduate of the school, spoke to the pupils recently and shortly afterward, Lieut. W. C. MacBrayne of the balloon squadron who has just returned from France, told of his adventures. Each of the speakers received three roasting cheers when he had concluded his address.

A Hard Day —OR— An Easy Hour

Thousands of housewives look upon wash day as the hardest, most dreaded, day of the week. That's because they toil needlessly over a tub and washboard.

Other housewives (in fact 200,000 of them) have ended all the dread and drudgery of wash day by getting a Thor Electric Washing Machine.

The Thor does a good sized washing in an hour—washes spotlessly clean and saves wear. Connects to any lamp socket. Sold on easy terms.
